PURPOSE & FORMAT

- This session is closely linked to the succeeding session "The future of FSTP".
- The objective of this session is to share the experiences among the Innovation Actions on the way they are organizing the open calls, identifying different issues and lessons learned.
- Each IA is asked to address in three slide the following elements:
  - A short overview of the approach to the FSTP calls:
  - Overview of some findings and issues:
  - Lessons learned
- Discussion

IA PRESENTATIONS

The RODIN project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 825263.

DISCUSSION

- Points for discussion
  - Geographical coverage and success rate
  - Documentation preparation
  - Briefing of evaluators
  - Decentralised vs centralised approach
  - Engaging end-users (rather than just technology providers)
  - Utilising lessons learned and best practice
  - Evaluation of commercialisation potential
  - Good proposals vs good projects
  - Need for common approach and terminology
